Campers flying under the status of an UM will be met by an Endless Summer Surf Camp Representative. Preparing for camp: Exercises

90% of surfing consists of Paddling the surfboard to get thru the waves and to catch waves. Paddling muscles used are the Shoulders, Triceps, and lateral muscles. Exercises helpful in fine-tuning these surfing muscles are swimming (freestyle or crawl stroke), pull-ups or chin-ups, dips, and push-ups. You should start these exercises at least 6 weeks prior to camp and do them 3 or more times a week. You can also check with your local trainer for advice. Surfing is a demanding sport, it might look easy, but it takes a lot of physical upper body strength to paddle the board. You must also be comfortable swimming within the surf line and getting thrown around by the waves. This is one of the most intimidating things with surfing. Please make sure you are in good physical shape and are not afraid of the ocean and can SWIM before coming to camp because there is a no refund policy after surf camp has begun.

Camp Itinerary

Monday upon arrival at surf camp (Monday 8am, or Sunday evening). If an overnight camper you will be directed towards your tent for the week by a camp counselor. Once on the beach an instructional session will be given, then we will separate into groups and head out into the water with your surf instructors.
